

Lisa Greenfield is the founder and CEO of TruthinHand.com. She helps achievers shift unwelcome patterns so they can experience more love and success without painfully repeating outgrown patterns.

Lisa brings a lifetime of experience reading well over 20,000 hands from around the globe. Her readings include iconic film stars, rock stars, international CEO's, television personalities and people just like you. Lisa has an unparalleled history in Hand Analysis that brings a rich, deep understanding of human nature reflected in the lines on hand.

Lisa's wide array of training, certifications and degrees support you getting where you want to be, but it's the 'hands on' experience with so many people that puts the practical real-world insight to work helping your dreams come true.

And it's customized for you primarily using your hands to know how you are best wired to achieve your dreams. If you've ever bought self help books and programs so highly recommended as 'it' only to have them fail you, the most likely problem is that's not the way you are programmed to succeed!

For example, one client was pushing, pushing, pushing to get to the top of her field only to have the rug pulled out from under her, laid off and feeling she'd been hit by a bus. Working with Lisa she discovered she's best at starting new things, NOT at bringing them to completion. Knowing her gifts, she plugged into a new job, one she would never have considered and is the darling of all company, star employee all the way.

Another client disgusted with the fact she continued to burn through relationships in two year intervals, was feeling she was broken and doomed. With Lisa's help she discovered the markers in her hand revealed she's an explorer, at her best open to possibilities and traveling, sitting lightly with relationships. Her hands clearly showed she was on track to create a long lasting partnership when she was in her late 30's after she'd seen the world and lived a bigger life.

Yes, timing is in your hands, but keep in mind your hands change. When you change your mind, you change your lines. So working with Lisa helps you consciously create more of the future you want. You've always had the power, and with this unique coaching and Lisa's expert guidance you also get the knowledge of how you are designed to use yours.

Lisa pulls from both the art and science of your body and brain for one of the most personalized maps for success, one tailor made for you! To read more about Lisa and what the Big Truth in Hand can do for you, visit her at TruthinHand.com.

"Lisa's life purpose reading was like she was looking into my soul and explaining to me how I tick and where i am going in my life and the greatness that I am pre-destined for! It is so beautiful to have this angel on earth (Lisa Greenfield) help me see the guideposts inside myself and in my life and to TRUST them... it really has helped me to know myself deeper and know what I am up to in this beautiful lifetime, not to mention Lisa has given me such excitement to what my life has in store for me!"

I have seen myself spiritually and professionally grow by leaps and bounds from working with Lisa. I have a new found confidence that escaped me before. She has so much love and compassion for her clients. She is driven to help you succeed and will stop at nothing to see that happen. She gives more than you have paid for by selflessly going the extra mile. I highly recommend Lisa and her talent, and her intuitive power. She is the new era of spirituality. You can trust that you are going to see results, but you have to be willing to do the work!

Doing Lisa's "Life Purpose Reading" was incredibly beneficial in giving me additional insight on things which I always felt was inherently holding me back from my full potential, but was never able to effectively articulate or verbalize. What I had received was an incredible amount of clarity on the needed balances I need to create in my life to find my full power. Since then, I've found myself really living in the flow, which is what we all desire, right? As a creative + business professional, I've found so much more business and opportunities come my way, and the best part is, I find that I am now living in a space where I KNOW, not in a theoretical sense, but truly feeling that more abundance is coming my way. Thank you Lisa!!!

My life has improved dramatically since Lisa Greenfield came into it! My friends and family will attest to this - just ask for the list of amazing events professionally and personally that have taken place! My Life Purpose reading helped me with aspects of myself that I've felt have been challenging for me for many years. I used to feel somewhat afraid of my own power, but that is no longer the case. I now am fascinated and inspired to explore my own sense of empowerment, and her reading gave me 'permission' to truly get in touch with what I need and to cultivate the courage to ask for it. I have also experienced a newfound sense of trust in life and trust in myself. Run, don't walk, to a the gift of a Life Purpose reading with Lisa! We all deserve such truth, love, and connection in our lives.
