

My Specialty - Elemental YOU

Earth (in Astrology that's Taurus, Virgo or Capricorn) represents the physical world, our bodies and our actions. In your palms is it the short strait heart or head line, ending under an inside finger. Earth has tremendous power as the place where we connect measurably with each other and the bigger world using our five senses. It is a rich playground and offers enormous information and feedback for us.

- I'll call you Generators because you are the engine that drives so much of the world we live in - you're discovering Self Empowerment. Every challenge that comes up, every dream or goal you have is to show you more of how much influence you have in the world.

Remember you are like the seed that must trust the destruction of its shell to bloom and grow while it works with the soil, the sun, the light and the water to become all it is mean to be and bear fruit. Patience and collaboration are required to help you bloom!

Then we have Water and our hearts (in Astrology that's Cancer, Scorpio or Pisces). In our hands it is the Heart Line that stays low and straight ending underneath the first finger or even running off the palm! It's the Head Line that ends under and inside finger (ring or middle) curving down towards the wrist even if it doesn't get all the way down. In fingerprints is the is Loop.

Water people - I call you Connectors, live in an emotional pool that swims in each of us and can be hard to measure and quantify, unlike our bodies with a precise step by step action. Emotions have a Water Symbolflow to them and tend to take on the shape of whatever contains them. It is the unconscious collective of feelings shared universally and is beyond measurement.

Water learns in relationship with others, getting greater understanding of how powerful you are in one to one interactions. After all, water can wear down a rock! Trust the flow of emotions will build and fall back much like the waves.

It requires time to see if the repeating wave in then wave out is moving you closer to what you want or showing you where you are ready to let go as the 'tide' goes out.

Add in Air, our Mind (in Astrology that's Gemini, Libra or Aquarius). In our Heart Line is it the shorter curved line ending in the region up near our middle finger. In our Head Line it is the straight line that ends underneath an outside finger near the center of the palm. In our fingerprints it is the Tented Arch.

Air people are our Innovators because Air lifts us up out of the deep well of emotions and gives us the clearer big picture view of what happens to us. This is where stories are born and we make meaning out of what is within us and going on outside of ourselves.

Our mind is the Air Traffic Control tower showing you how you are powerful in the one to many arena. The challenge for Air is to remember that to stay in 'control' with the mind means being locked in a tower and never on the plane. Learning to balance the big view with actual experience is what makes your life so much richer.

My Specialty - Elemental YOU

Finally we have Fire which is the spirit or intuition we all have within us (in Astrology that's Aries, Leo or Sagittarius). Fire Heart and Head lines go the furthest distance. They end under an outside finger (pointer or little finger) curving quite a bit up or down towards the wrist. In fingerprints it is the Whorl.

Fire allows us to sense something just out of sight and goes back to survival skills when sensing danger or possibility you couldn't yet see or understand. Fire people - my Inspirationals learn where about power in the one to the Divine instinct, what drives us to create more than what we are living and go beyond into creation possibilities.
